

Graphs can be used to depict the story of a race. Here is a graph that represents a swimming race that occurred between two middle-grades students. Write a story that describes what happened in this race.

